

Interprofessional Learning Placement: Key stakeholder roles

Interprofessional Learning Placements are focussed on opportunities to bring students from different disciplines together to work as a team. Placing students together in a rural area and promoting a team-based approach to placement enables a shared team identity, interdependence and integration, and a shared responsibility for care. These placements involve student orientation, work and evaluation occurring together and the opportunity to learn from various health professionals.

