2. Acknowledgement

I have read and understood the Charles Sturt University Defence Trade Controls Act 2012 – Compliance and Administration Policy	<input type="radio"/>
I am aware in certain instances, I will need to apply for a permit through Charles Sturt University Defence Export Controls if I intend to conduct research involving technology that is regulated by the Defence and Strategic Goods List (DSGL) or produce research outcomes related to DSGL regulated technology including publications, patents, equipment, software and ongoing development of technology	<input type="radio"/>
I am aware that it is my responsibility to assist the Charles Sturt University Defence Trade Controls Committee with ascertaining whether a permit may be required for each of my projects prior to conducting research, developing technology or publishing findings	<input type="radio"/>
I am aware of Charles Sturt University's Defence Trade Controls Act (DTCA) training module which is available through the CSU ELMO Online Training portal	<input type="radio"/>
I have not completed the DTCA Training module because I do not believe that my research falls under the Defence Trade Controls Act 2012 or the Charles Sturt University Defence Trade Controls Act 2012 – Compliance and Administration Policy	<input type="radio"/>
