

Service Learning Placement: Key stakeholder roles

Service learning placements are developed and coordinated by Three Rivers staff in collaboration with host organisations, local community and university workplace learning teams.

During these placements, it is the role of the Three Rivers clinical educator to act as an agent of connection between key stakeholders to ensure the placement is co-designed, well planned, appropriately supervised, and high quality.

In addition to the role of connecting key stakeholders, Three Rivers will provide resources, clinical, cultural and additional supervisory support to stakeholders.

