

Granted Program

Write a stand-out research grant proposal.

Ahead of the deadline.

With expert mentoring and strategic advice while you write.

And a tribe to support you.

Overview

The 'Granted' program provides training in grant writing and development, being offered to early- and mid-career researchers in 2021. The program combines an online course with practical guidance to develop and write a full grant proposal. A dedicated facilitator will give participants personal support, mentoring, and strategic advice during the program.

There are limited places in this program (maximum of 10 funded seats).

Structure of the program

Online course	Participants will complete a series of six online modules structured over an 8-week program, commencing 16th August 2021. There are six modules in the program: Module 1 – Get Grant Ready  Module 2 – Ready, Set, Write  Module 3 – Online Q &amp; A Week  Module 4 – Feedback Fest  Module 5 – Feedback Integration  Module 6 – Post-Submission Professionalism Extended access to online modules allows participants to complete in their own time.
Draft grant proposal	Participants will apply what they learnt in the online course to develop a draft grant proposal for a target funding scheme within 12 months.
Coaching session*	Following the completion of a draft proposal, participants will receive a one-on-one coaching session for feedback.

The course has been developed by Dr Anna Hutchens from Postdoc Solutions Online. For further details <http://www.postdocsolutionsonline.com/granted/>.

**Participants are expected to successfully complete all course modules and associated tasks, develop a draft proposal, and participate fully with the program to be considered for the one-on-one coaching session.*
