ONLINE RESOURCES AT CSU

Want to start your study journey now?
Accept your offer to unlock these exclusive links.

Study Link

Study Link offers short, self-paced, non-credit bearing online subjects to get you ready for your course, or to help you enhance a skill during it. If you have a Commonwealth supported place, as soon as you accept your offer you can brush up on writing, maths or science skills – for free. Plus, all students are enrolled in our free short course, 'Introduction to Online Learning'.

Online workshops

We have a suite of digital workshop resources open to all students who have accepted an offer, on topics such as critical thinking, time management, overcoming procrastination, proofreading tips, academic reading and developing an argument.

ALLaN

Our Academic Literacy, Learning and Numeracy (ALLaN) team offer support for your academic writing, including one-to-one consultations and assignment feedback. The team's From Start to Submit workshop series covers the following essential skills for creating excellent assignments.

1. Getting started
2. Being a researcher
3. Putting it in your own words
4. Structuring information
5. Submit with style

Library

When you study online with CSU you'll have an around-the-clock pass to our full library of eBooks, eJournals, encyclopedias, multimedia resources and course readings. You can also order any book to be delivered by post free of charge – and the return postage is on us too.

Indigenous student services

If you are Aboriginal or Torres Strait Islander, we have dedicated support services that you can access when you need – on the phone and online. The Indigenous Academic Success Program (IASP) gives you access to tutors and learning advisers to provide extra support in your studies, any time you need it. Plus, if you're near a campus, you can pop into one of our Indigenous Student Centres for a chat.

Student liaison officers

Our student liaison officers bring a range of expertise to their roles. From help with online learning and academic advice to questions around finance and learning, our team can answer any queries you may have about your CSU study experience.
