Research for Development Impact (RDI) Network

Are you a researcher working in the field of international development? Are you aware of the Research for Development Impact (RDI) Network ?

This is a network of practitioners, researchers and evaluators working in international development. The network aims to foster collaboration between Australian universities and NGOs in order to promote high quality and ethical development research, translated as evidence and applied to effective policy and practice.

It is easy to join the network and list yourself on the "Find an Expert" portal. <https://rdinetwork.org.au>

Faculty Happenings

Doing Indigenous urban research: creative futures and indigenising urban studies

The urbanisation of people, space, and the future is occurring on a planetary scale. Indigenous peoples have been insightful scholars of urbanisation, at a local, for hundreds of years. And yet, Indigenous contributions to urban planning and infrastructure are not commonly recognised in dominant historical and policy accounts of cities. The seminar series, 'Doing Indigenous Urban Research: Creative Futures and Indigenising Urban Studies', centres Indigenous expertise and history to contemporary urban problems in Australia and demonstrates the relevance of Indigenist research approaches to international urban studies. The seminar series addresses the creative ways Indigenous peoples have contributed to urbanisation in Australia and how urbanisation can support sustainable Indigenous futures. Indigenous expertise and experience of urbanisation in Australia can productively address a number of urban agendas with global implications such as the growing youth demographic of the Indigenous population and approaches to climate change and bio-diversity in urban spaces that can sustainably respond to environmental problems resulting from rapid urbanisation. 'Doing Indigenous Urban Research' affirms the centrality of Indigenous contributions to urbanisation and circulates Indigenous expertise and policy-relevant knowledge to global discussions of the urbanisation of the future.

The series is being convened by Dr. Holly Randell-Moon, School of Indigenous Australian Studies, Dubbo Campus. It is funded by an Urban Studies Foundation Seminar Series Award. Confirmed speakers include: Auntie Frances Bodkin, Professor Bronwyn Carlson (Macquarie University) and Professor Irene Watson (University of South Australia). A speaker schedule will be circulated soon. For more info, please contact Holly at: hrandell-moon@csu.edu.au

Congratulations to Wendy Bowles, Heather Boetto & Jennifer McKinnon on winning the 2018 International Social Work (ISW) Journal Prize.

Since 2004 International Social Work has awarded an annual prize for the best article published in each volume. The ISW Journal Prize is awarded to the authors of the article that best reflects the aims and scope of the journal to explore and promote the development of international social work. Articles are judged according to the criteria of 'scholarship, relevance to a wide range of readers, originality, international focus, and contribution to international theory, policy and research'. All articles published in ISW in the given volume year are eligible for consideration. The Editors draw up a shortlist and the Editorial Policy Committee with representatives from IFSW, IASSW and ICSW select a winner based on the above criteria.

Congratulations to Belinda Cash, School of Humanities and Social Sciences, on her PhD award graduation at La Trobe University in Wodonga yesterday.

Belinda's thesis explored care-giving in a rural setting, title and abstract from the graduation program as follows:

A Critical Exploration of the Systemic Complexities Impacting Rural Australian Spousal Caregivers in Later Life

Dr Cash explored spousal caregiving in later life. Her research demonstrated significant social and structural inequities for caregivers in rural Australia. These findings contribute important insight into the Translation of contemporary aged care policies into practice with spousal caregivers.

This is really valuable research with implications for both policy and practice in aged care.

Great work, Dr Cash!

Funding Opportunities

Discovery Translation Fund at CSU - Call For Research Commercialisation EOIs

CSU is part of the Discovery Translation Fund (DTF) with the Australian National University (ANU) and the University of Canberra (UC). The DTF assists the commercialisation of new technologies and innovations from each university by providing a peer review and evaluation process prior to investment. The goal of DTF is to help bridge the critical funding gap between discovery research and the commercial development of new technologies or the establishment of new ventures. The DTF provides opportunity for any project with commercial potential across all disciplines and research areas.

Each university is responsible for funding the next step towards commercialisation for research originating within its own institution. All appropriate Intellectual Property (IP) arrangements must be in place with the relevant university. There is no cross-funding of projects. CSU has committed investment of up to $350,000 per annum to advance the commercialisation of our own research.

Grants can be awarded up to $50,000 per project, with funding above $50,000 considered for projects of exceptional commercial potential. Funding above $50,000 on any one project can only be awarded conditionally and will be accessible only on the demonstration of a significant commercial milestone.

CSU is now calling for Expressions of Interest for consideration by the Evaluation Committee at the February meeting. Interested researchers and research teams will need to submit a completed EOI form to the CSU DTF Team at innovate@csu.edu.au no later than 23 April.

The EOI Form is available as indicated below. Researchers are strongly recommended to read the DTF Guidelines before proceeding. Please direct all enquiries to the CSU DTF Team at innovate@csu.edu.au.

Further information and documentation on DTF is available at <http://www.anuconnectventures.com.au/investment/discovery-translation-fund-2-0/>

Documents can also be downloaded from the Common Folder on the S drive: S:\Common\ Temp Folder Less Than 30 Days\DTF

Mental Health Research Grants

Expressions of Interest (EOI) for Australian Rotary Health funded Mental Health Research Grants are now OPEN, for funding in 2020.

Projects must focus on the mental health of young Australians (aged 0 – 25 years) and be conducted within Australia at a recognised university, hospital or research institute. Research grants are valued at up to $70,000 per annum + GST for 1, 2, or 3 years, and are available to Australian citizens, Australian permanent residents, and New Zealand citizens.

To find out more and/or fill out the online EOI form, visit this website link:

<https://australianrotaryhealth.org.au/research/current-research-opportunities/eoi-for-mental-health-grants/>

EOI closing date is: 11.59pm AEST, Friday, 31st May, 2019.

National Library of Australia Fellowships

The Library has a diverse collection that supports, inspires and transforms research. Fellowships allow researchers to embark on a period of intensive research into the collections in a supportive, intellectual and creative environment.

Fellowships are open to researchers from Australia and overseas undertaking advanced research projects. Nine funded fellowships will be awarded for research areas where the Library's collections have the depth and breadth to support the desired outcomes.

For further information, head to: <https://www.nla.gov.au/awards-and-grants/fellowships-and-scholarships>

Applications close 30th April 2019.

Sociology of Education Summit 2019 – Call for Papers & HDR Travel Grant Opportunity

Thursday 12 September 2019

University of Technology, Sydney

Taking the forthcoming ten-year anniversary of the My School website as a starting point this one day summit will focus on broader themes associated with education wherever it is happening, such as:

- The purpose and repurposing of schooling, early childhood education and care, and higher education
- The shifts in focus from common systems to individualised choice
- The expansion of school choice
- The corporatisation of education, including the growth of edu-business and private tutoring
- The use/abuse of standardised testing in education
- Education and social mobility and social reproduction
- Equity and Inequity associated with class, race/ethnicity, gender, ableness, sexuality, geography

The summit will include a keynote from Professor Pasi Sahlberg and a forum focused on what we have learned from ten years of My School and how My School has (re)shaped the way we view education, contributing to current debates about the future of education policy and schooling practices.

Papers are welcomed from researchers, practitioners, policy makers, activists, and interested citizens. Presenters will have 20 mins, followed by 10 mins for questions.

If you wish to present a paper please fill in the form below, including an abstract of up to 300 words.

https://docs.google.com/forms/d/e/1FAIpQLScnv1L50v\_wzMsVE1Qywk\_nAYlojzBy3YdsI2x0rH-kF8oqlg/viewform

Deadline for abstracts: 1st May 2019.

For more information about the event, contact the organisers at Christina.Ho@uts.edu.au or martin.forsey@uwa.edu.au or Kellie Bousfield kbousfield@csu.edu.au

HDR students: There are a small number of $350 scholarships to cover travel & accommodation costs. If you would like to apply for this, email kbousfield@csu.edu.au with a brief description (one paragraph) of your research and why attending this event would benefit you as a researcher (one paragraph).

Event sponsors: The Australian Sociological Association, University of Technology Sydney & University of Western Australia

Upcoming Professional Development Opportunities:

Measuring and Evaluating Research Impact

This session will show you the tools to assess the impact of your research and help identify where to publish to maximise your research impact.

23rd Apr 2019

Supportive Conversations for HDR Supervisors

HDR supervisors play a pivotal role in supporting the well-being and mental health of their research students. This session, will guide supervisors in having supportive conversations, as well as setting boundaries, responding to stressed or anxious students, and making appropriate referrals. All new and ongoing supervisors welcome.

30th Apr 2019

R Tutorial Series 3 - More hypothesis tests and advanced regression models

Participants will be able to perform some less often-used hypothesis tests; fit sample data with a selected probability distribution; analyse multiple linear regression and 2 or 3 way ANOVA & MANOVA models; analyse some generalised linear regression ...

2nd May 2019

Research Administration 3 - Developing my Research Budget

Are you competent in developing a solid and competitive research budget? This session aims to assist researchers with all facets of budget development.

7th May 2019

Conducting Interviews - Logic and Logistics

Interviewing is the most popular way to collect qualitative data. However, organising interviews and gaining access is difficult and time consuming and many researchers are disappointed with the results of their interviews. This workshop looks at the advantages and limitations of interview data, how to get the most out of your interviews, how to conduct individual interviews, and useful ways to record non-verbal as well as verbal data. This workshop is limited to 15 participants and is facilitated by Dr Jenine Beekhuyzen of Adriot Research, please email her with any questions - info@adroitresearch.com.au with the subject line: CSU workshop.

Working with the Media in Research

This is an interactive workshop about how you can strategically and successfully work with the media in a research context, engage with the media in order to have a greater impact and get your research out into the boarder community. It will provide information about: what makes a good news story, working effectively with journalists, as well as tips on giving TV and radio interviews.
