

Dear [insert publisher name]

Charles Sturt University Research Output (CRO) is the showcase for research and scholarly outputs created by University staff. The University has adopted an Open Access Mandate, with the aim of collecting and making freely available to the world the research output produced by CSU researchers: <https://www.csu.edu.au/research/performance/cro/policy>

I am seeking to utilise previously published work within my thesis. I request permission for the copy-edited formatted version of the article [article name] to be deposited in the Charles Sturt University Research Output (CRO) Repository within my thesis [thesis title], from which members of the general public can download copies without charge. The article will be properly attributed to [journal name].
