Welcome to Charles Sturt

At Charles Sturt University, you'll have an Australian study experience like no other. You'll receive a world-class education in quality learning and teaching facilities with personalised student support. This will enable you to thrive throughout your studies. With a focus on practical, hands-on learning, we have the highest graduate employment rate in Australia*. Additionally, Charles Sturt ranks in the top ten per cent globally for sustainable cities and communities[^].

Our regional campus environments are unique with opportunities to see Australian wildlife. Our class sizes are typically small to maintain a quality of teaching that ensures you get the most out of your education.

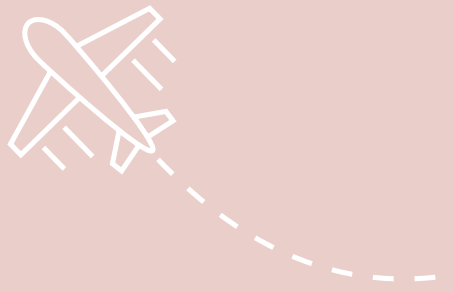

I am confident that your experience will equip you to have a bright future and undertake a successful career. We look forward to welcoming you to Charles Sturt, where you will be a part of a vibrant community, make lifelong connections and receive the support and the attributes you need to succeed in today's global workplace.

Inspiring

Study Abroad: is it for me?

It's time to broaden your education with the study adventure of a lifetime. Your international studies will create some of the most unforgettable moments, experiences and friendships of your life.

See the world as you explore our customs, culture and the Australian way of life. Make lifelong friends as you become a global citizen and broaden your perspective. All while you pursue the study program best suited to your needs.

Study Abroad

Study Abroad gives you the opportunity to live and study at a campus in regional New South Wales. When you study in the country, you'll also have access to some of Australia's major capital cities, including Sydney, Melbourne and Brisbane. Some of Australia's most iconic landmarks are just a few hours' drive away!

You can choose to study a single session or a full year on campus at Charles Sturt.

Why you should study overseas

There's so much to gain through our Study Abroad program:

- A professional education taught by industry experts.
- A taste of what life in Australia is like.
- Hands-on learning and practical skills.
- New friendships and experiences.
- Social engagement with peers from Australia and around the world.

I was so lucky to study a joint-operation program through Tianjin University of Commerce, China – at Charles Sturt's Bathurst campus. The experience was so fantastic that I decided to study my Master of Professional Accounting at Charles Sturt too.

I am so grateful that I had such a great and rewarding experience with affordable tuition and living expenses.

I loved the small class sizes, which gave me so many opportunities to communicate and discuss with lecturers. I made many lifelong friends while living on campus. Studying in regional Australia let me get involved with campus life and local communities as well. I loved going for a bike ride in natural reserves. There are so many benefits of studying at Charles Sturt!

After finishing my master's, I was able to get a job straight away.

What makes Charles Sturt unique?

Create a world worth living in

At Charles Sturt, we're immensely proud of our rich culture and heritage – and we can't wait to share it with you!

The Wiradjuri phrase yindyamarra winhanganha means the wisdom of respectfully knowing how to live well in a world worth living in.

This phrase represents who we are at Charles Sturt – it's our ethos. It comes from First Nations knowledge, but it also speaks to the mission of our university – to develop and spread wisdom to make the world a better place.

When you study with us, you'll be part of the movement to create a world worth living in.

Sustainability is important to us

We are Australia's first certified carbon neutral university, meaning we reduce and offset our carbon emissions so they can be equal to zero.

We encourage all our staff and students to make small changes to help the environment, like turning off lights, air conditioners and computers when not in use. We support sustainable suppliers and use smart water metres so we can monitor our water use, especially during times of drought, with 500 installed so far.

We ranked in the top 11 per cent for Climate Action in the Times High Education Impact Rankings. We're an active member of Australian Campuses Towards Sustainability (ACTS).

Did you know?

Nationwide, more than 36,000 students are studying at Charles Sturt in 2024.

We embrace diversity and equality by promoting social inclusion and equal opportunity for all.

We've currently got 10,508 students studying on campus.

Albury-Wodonga

Explore our environmentally-friendly campus

Sustainability is truly at the heart of our Albury-Wodonga campus. It's one of the reasons we're Australia's first carbon neutral university.* The buildings you'll live and study in have been designed to minimise energy use. They're jam-packed with recycled materials and made of rammed earth, so are low-energy and will keep you snug during winter and cool in summer.

The campus stretches over 87 hectares, giving you plenty of room to do your best thinking. It's home to lots of species of native flora and fauna, including the endangered Sloane's froglet that lives in the campus wetlands.

Where you'll learn

- Anatomy and physiology labs
- Recreational facilities, including mountain bike track and rock climbing wall
- Community engagement and wellness
- Enviro facilities, including our unique rammed earth buildings and state-of-the-art labs
- Herbarium
- Wetlands

Things to do in Albury-Wodonga

- Explore 90 kilometres of tracks and trails
- Picnic at Lake Hume
- Visit Noreuil Park on the banks of the Murray River
- Discover the Murray Art Museum Albury
- Wagirra Trail and Yindyamarra sculpture walk
- Road trip to the nearby snow fields

Wagga Wagga

Grow your future at our agricultural campus

Step into the future of agriculture at our Wagga Wagga campus – right in the heart of the NSW food bowl. In the hills to the east there are permanent pastures supporting cattle and sheep enterprises. To the west is the Murrumbidgee Irrigation Area where cotton, grapes and horticultural crops are grown. And in between is the mixed farming zone with crops and livestock.

Covering 640 hectares, Wagga is our biggest campus. It's packed with state-of-the-art facilities, including clinics, labs and studios. It's home to a 1,600-hectare mixed-use farm – which happens to be the largest digital farm in the Southern Hemisphere – and a commercial winery. And it comes with loads of sports and rec facilities, including the gym; squash, tennis and basketball courts; and swimming pool.

Where you'll learn

- Community Dental and Oral Health Clinic
- Commercial winery
- Equine centre and veterinary clinical centre
- 1,600-hectare farm
- Health facilities, including dental and oral health clinic, virtual rooms, medical imaging, radiography and nuclear medicine labs, and nursing simulation lab
- Riverina Playhouse

Things to do in Wagga Wagga

- Discover the 42-kilometre Wiradjuri Trail
- Swim at Wagga Beach on the banks of the Murrumbidgee River (previously named one of the top ten beaches in Australia)
- Explore Pomingalarna Reserve mountain bike trails
- Enjoy local produce at the nearby licorice and chocolate factory, strawberry farm and olive groves

All applications are assessed on a case-by-case basis.

Equity, diversity and inclusion

Charles Sturt seeks to improve access, participation and success for students from disadvantaged or diverse backgrounds through the provision of support services and programs. That can include students who are:

- from rural and isolated areas
- from lower socioeconomic backgrounds
- from non-English speaking backgrounds
- from humanitarian or refugee backgrounds
- diverse sex, sexuality and gender identity
- First Nations
- have a disability
- women studying in traditionally male-dominated areas.

LGBTIQA+

Charles Sturt is committed to providing a safe, supportive and inclusive environment for students, staff and visitors where people are encouraged to bring their whole selves to class or to work.

We use the acronym LGBTIQA+, which collectively refers to lesbian, gay, bisexual, transgender, intersex, queer/questioning and asexual people, but recognise that the community's diversity goes beyond these terms.

Our goal is to include the many people and communities who have additional ways of describing their distinct histories, experiences and needs.

Visible signs of LGBTIQA+ inclusion across our campuses and online promote a safe, respectful and affirming environment for all. It helps us achieve our ethos yindyamarra winhanganha – respectfully knowing how to live well in a world worth living in.

Accessibility

We aim to ensure students can participate fully in their studies. Our Accessibility and Inclusion Support service provides advice, support and adjustments for students with a disability. Our Student Liaison Officer (Disability) can help with:

- general advice and assistance
- issues around disclosure of your disability to other staff and students
- support strategies tailored to your personal circumstance
- contact with academic and administrative staff
- referral to and communication with relevant services or agencies
- access to specialised resources and services
- campus access information.

Support services

We've got your back. From health and wellbeing to study and careers, we offer personalised support to help you succeed from start to finish. Study support isn't just a safety net; it's a crucial part of the overall Charles Sturt experience. Our support services include:

- Study support
- Career development
- Counselling services
- First Nations Student Support
- Accessibility and Inclusion
- LGBTIQA+ Ally Network
- Technical support
- International student support.
